Apologies in Strata: a Queensland perspective

- Tristan Place [2024] QBCCMCmr 64 (20 February 2024)

[74] The applicant seeks an order compelling the respondent to apologise for causing upset, embarrassment, and increased difficulty for owners trying to sell or lease lots in the scheme.

[75] An apology is not a form of remedy specifically provided for under the Act. The purpose of an order of an adjudicator is to resolve a dispute, and there is a wide scope to do so, but it is commonly held that the more appropriate remedy is to make an appropriate order relevant to the substantive dispute.

[76] I am not satisfied an apology, particularly one made under compulsion, would resolve the dispute. Therefore, I decline to make the order sought.

So, ok: what does an apology look like?

- Express regret
- Explain – but keep it brief
- Acknowledge any harm you've caused
- Say you'll try not to do it again
- Offer to repair
- Ask for forgiveness (but let go of expectations)
